CONNECTING THROUGH NEW AGE TECHNOLOGIES

TELE MEDICINE

The advent of new technologies has given rise to virtual medical advice from anywhere in the world. With Telemedicine, patients can consult Sharda doctors from wherever they are, using their smart phone or PC. Sharda Hospital's telemedicine centre uses live video conferencing and real time medical record sharing/communication portal. The combination of telemedicine technology paired with specialty medical devices enables Sharda doctors to "see" the patient as if they were actually in the examination room with the patient. The specialist can provide assessment, diagnosis and treatment, request referral, send laboratory test request and provide prescription to the patient.

TELE PATHOLOGY

Tele-Pathology helps to exchange specimen slides with scanned and high-resolution digital images via microscopic digital cameras. Tele-Pathology makes it faster and easier to share medical images. Biopsies can be cut, stained, scanned, magnified and sent digitally during an operation. A pathologist can read the slides remotely in real-time and provide the surgeon with an immediate diagnosis.

TELE RADIOLOGY

Sharda Hospital extensively uses Teleradiology for transmission of radiological patient images, such as MRI's, CT Scans & X-rays from one location to another for the purposes of sharing studies with other radiologists and doctors. This technology intervention helps patients and diagnostic centres in remote locations to connect with Sharda's radiologists with their radiology images for expert opinion and get appropriate treatment recommendations. This service will play a very vital role in reducing patient waiting time for diagnosis, treatment commencement and cost.

TELE ICU

Tele-ICU is a new addition in the field of healthcare to take Sharda's Hospital's critical care unit to a higher level and standard. It is a type of virtual ICU (intensive care unit) that remotely observes a patient's status via state-of-the-art audio-visual communication and computer systems with the help of a reliable networking with a bedside ICU team.

Doctors give expert advice for management of critically ill patients including initiation of mechanical ventilation or non-invasive ventilation, hemodynamic monitoring support, management of difficult to ventilate patients like ARDS and obstructive lung disease.
